A GUIDE TO RESEARCHING THE HISTORY OF YOUR HOME

Every home has a history. This guide introduces you to resources and services that will help unlock the unique story of your home.

WHERE TO START

Start with what you already know about your home and clarify the questions you want answered. When was it built? What was there before? Who has lived within its walls? What is the history of the area?

Local History Centre

The City of Vincent's Local History Centre offers resources and services to help you explore these questions and more. Resources include:

Photographs

Over 4000 images of people and places in the Vincent area are available online: <https://library.vincent.wa.gov.au/local-history-centre.aspx>

Maps, Plans & Posters

Original street maps, sewerage plans and real estate subdivision posters of the Vincent area dating from the 1800s.

Street Files & Directories

Hard copy files containing previous research on properties and streets such as Certificates of Title, heritage assessments, newspaper articles, and real estate advertisements.

Newspapers

Find archived copies of local papers, clippings and get assistance searching historic papers on TROVE.

Oral histories & written stories

Hundreds of oral history interviews and written accounts of life in particular houses, streets and suburbs by current and former residents.

Architecture books and heritage guides

Reference books can help identify the age and style of your property. Guides to particular housing styles are also available.

Suburb histories

Short guides on Vincent suburbs are online at: <https://library.vincent.wa.gov.au/suburbhistories>
