The Aroma of Coffee Fills the Air as North Perth Bursts into Life!

It's on again – mark 29 November in your diary now and get ready to hit Angove Street for the Vincent Cappuccino Festival! With something for the whole family – from street performers to food stalls, jewellery items to puppet shows, workshops to rocking bans – North Perth heats up and the heady smell of coffee will permeate the atmosphere.

"Last year's festival was a huge success with over 5000 people heading to Angove Street to take part in the festivities. And this year is set to be another triumph. We are famed for our cafe culture and this festival really captures the spirit of our community and our cosmopolitan lifestyle. Get swept up in the fun and frivolity!", enthused Mayor Nick Catania.

From 10.00am to 4.00pm on Sunday 29 November, North Perth will host an array of workshops, stalls and entertainment. Centred around Angove Street (Rosemount Hotel end), this year visitors can follow the "footprints" into Fitzgerald Street and take part in even more exciting events – Bananas the Clown and carnival games outside Fiorentina Patisserie, hair braiding at What Ever for Hair, cooking demonstrations at Basics and Beyond and surprise giveaways at Velvetelvis.

"Indulge your senses as you sample all the coffees, take a coffee appreciation workshop, taste beers and wines, visit the stalls selling everything from native plants to art, craft, jewellery and gourmet foods, check out the buskers' zone where intergalactic beings will vie for attention with frightful Italian nonnas and juggling clowns. And get into the smooth tunes with The Groovesmiths, The Novcaines, Andrew Winton, Kind George and Boom Bap Pow. You can even catch a short film when entries in the Vincent Film Project hit the screen at the Rosemount", continued Mayor Catania.

"The kids aren't left out either with puppet shows, storytelling, face painting, arts and crafts, the North Perth Primary School Ensemble hitting the buskers' zone, street theatre and roving performers ready to cause havoc and mayhem whether they are on the ground or up in the air – best beware! There's something for the whole family to enjoy. It's going to be a great day out in vibrant Vincent – be there!" concluded Mayor Catania.
