DURWARD, Trent

We live in an awesome community. Our diverse, vibrant neighbourhoods connect us in a uniquely Vincent way, but we can always improve and innovate to meet the needs of a changing world.

I'm active and involved in Vincent life: living in Leederville with my wife and 2 kids, having owned Henry Hiccups toy shop on Oxford St, volunteering for the Fathering Project at my local school and as Chair of Leederville Connect; celebrating our community through events and festivals and advocating for good quality design and small business support.

As a planning professional for 17 years, I value green space, sustainability, sensible design and activating our laneways, streets and town centres.

I offer on ground experience, energy and engagement to ensure Vincent is a better place, now and for the future
